What's involved?

You will be asked to take a series of timed assessments and two questionnaires. These are usually taken under exam conditions but don't worry - this is not an exam and there is no need to revise for it. To get an idea of what you might be asked to do, you can find some practice questions at www.morrisby.com/practice-aptitude-questions

What your login for life to Morrisby offers

- Morrisby Profile: Psychometric aptitude assessment of verbal, numerical, abstract, spatial and mechanical ability plus both Aspirations and Personality Type questionnaires. This objectively identifies personal strengths and talents both academic and practical.
- Study Interests: Analyses the subject areas you would enjoy studying at degree level.
- Priorities: A questionnaire to help identify what's most important to you in a career.
- Learning Style: Identifies the way you prefer to learn.
- Career Suggestions: Interactive suggestions drawn from an everincreasing database, according to fit against all the above measures.

- Options at 15/16: Suggestions for those looking to Key Stage 5, further education, training or apprenticeship routes.
- Options at 18: Suggested routes to careers after school/college as well as specific degree courses (UK and Europe) and degree level apprenticeships.
- Tools: Include a personal planner, university/course search, and a Personal Statement builder.
- Support: A login for life to your account and free support from a professional careers adviser (via email) for as long as you need it.
- Resources: Include career descriptions, routes to careers, videos, salary and prospects plus university outlines, study areas, course details and requirements, college outlines and apprenticeship links.

Achieving Goals

For those of you who feel you already know your direction, Morrisby can help you investigate the best routes to achieve your goals and explore similar careers or courses, including many you may never have considered.

Identifying strengths

Objective psychometric assessments identify your strengths across academic, technical and practical areas. These aptitudes are combined with measures of career and study interests, motivations, preferences and temperament to form a comprehensive personal profile. The profile provides you with personal insights raising self-awareness. The analyses highlight directions for the future, helping to boost motivation and aspiration.

Your options at 18

Whatever you decide to do after your GCSEs (or equivalent) Morrisby will be here to help.

Completing our 'Study Interests' questionnaire (which is located on the 'Options at 18' page of your results) will give you access to a personalised list of subjects that match your profile and your preferences. You can then research suitable courses at universities in the UK and Europe (using course data from the UCAS and EUNICAS databases). These can be filtered by the type of course that interests you, the region you'd like to study in, the grades you are predicted and university type. Our interactive Personal Statement template can also help you with your university application.

We also provide information on degree level apprenticeships and entry to employment at 18.
